Suggested Lesson Procedure (Total Time: ~110 Minutes)

NOT FOR EDUCATIONAL USE

1. Before Reading (~15 Minutes)
Tell students they will be doing a pre-reading strategy called Story Impressions. (Story Impressions is a pre-reading strategy widely used in literacy instruction because it activates background knowledge and improves engagement, comprehension, and text structure awareness.)

Students will look at words from the story and use them to predict what might happen. Have students write a one-paragraph story using all the words in the order they're listed. If time allows, ask a few volunteers to read their paragraph aloud.

2. Read the Short Story (~10 Minutes)
Students will read the full text of "The Gift." You may choose to read aloud as a class (my preference) or allow independent silent reading depending on your class.

3. Comprehension Check (~25 Minutes)

Students will answer the Reading Comprehension and Literary Analysis questions. Give students time to complete the questions independently to encourage close reading and critical thinking. After students have had time to work, review the questions as a full class, clarifying reasoning, citing textual evidence, and addressing any misconceptions that arise.

4. After Reading Project (~60 Minutes)
Assign the After Reading creative task. Students will design their own Christmas tree made from inanimate objects. They will draw, color, and explain their tree design, including why they selected their pieces and what their tree represents. Students may use one of the provided templates if they choose, or they may work on a blank piece of paper if they prefer more creative freedom. They can also choose their own original title or use "My Tree" to title their project.

Hang up final projects in your classroom. :)

Create Your Own Christmas Tree

In Ray Bradbury's "The Gift," the parents transform the stars and space into a magical Christmas tree. In this activity, you will design a Christmas tree from something that is NOT actually a tree that is meaningful to you.

Student Directions:

- 1) Choose one or more inanimate objects to build your "tree."

Examples: A pile of books, musical instruments, sports equipment, makeup, food, seashells, clothing, nature, everyday items, hobbies...

Before you start, check that you can answer "yes" to these statements:

- ✓ I like or care about the item.
- ✓ It represents something meaningful or symbolic.
- ✓ It will be fun and interesting to draw.

- 2) Design and draw your transformed "tree." Your tree should take the shape of a Christmas tree (triangle form) and symbolize who you are or something meaningful in your life.

- 3) Color your page/pictures!

- 4) Write a short explanation (3–5 sentences) describing which object(s) you used, why you chose them, and what they represent.

I chose baking items because I love to bake. Some items I included are: rolling pin, piping bag, eggs, honey, and sugar. Baking desserts for my friends and family brings me joy. It's a hobby that helps me relax, and I can share with others.
